CONFERENCE AIMS

In a world where student safety and well-being are paramount, effective safeguarding practices are essential. 'Safeguarding for Success', our new, transformative conference, is dedicated to ensuring every student's protection every day. This event unites safeguarding professionals to foster meaningful dialogue, share best practices, and collaborate on strategies that create safer school environments for all students to thrive.

Through exploring critical topics, this conference empowers attendees with the knowledge, skills, and resources necessary to safeguard students in today's complex, rapidly changing landscape. 'Safeguarding for Success' is more than just a conference - it's a call to action, a shared commitment to safeguarding our most valuable asset: our students. Together, we're building a safer future where they can realise their true potential, today, tomorrow, and beyond.

is Director of Schools Supported, an education consultancy, providing school improvement support for safeguarding, inclusion and SEND. Having held senior and central MAT roles in a range of schools, she calls on her practical experience in school leadership as DSL, SENCo AHT and Director of Inclusion, to help move schools from compliance to creating effective cultures for inclusion and safeguarding. Her work with schools across the country, is centred around contextual needs of children, particularly those affecting marginalised or vulnerable communities. She is a founding member of the Supervision in Schools Network with UCL, was SLE for SEND (South East) holds Level 5 Safeguarding Managers certification, is a qualified SENDCo and a Fellow of the Chartered College of Teaching; she is currently reading for a Masters in Social Justice and Education at UCL, is a School Governor and is Specialist Partner for the NPQSENCo at the National Institute of Teaching.

Ella Savell-Boss

is a qualified BACP accredited person-centred and gestalt therapist and NSPCC accredited safeguarding trainer. Ella provides safeguarding and child protection training and consultancy to organisations both nationally and internationally. With over 19 years of experience within safeguarding and education, she delivers innovative, engaging, and up-to-date training sessions on a variety of subjects. Her background in counselling aids her ability to effectively support organisations with wellbeing, mental health support, and supervision for staff, children, and families. She has also held various positions within the education sector, including Director of Safeguarding for a large Multi Academy Trust, Children's Services Manager, Extended Schools Manager, and Safeguarding Manager for six academies.

Libby Flenley

is founder of The Sex, Lies & Love project, fully qualified Social Worker, Children and Families Safeguarding professional and exploitation specialist. Libby has a decade of experience supporting victims & survivors of child sexual and criminal exploitation, and delivering workshops exploring how peers, perpetrators and online media, such as pornography, distorts young people's views of sex & violence.

Karen Hackett

is Head of Educational Standards for North Lincolnshire Council, responsible for safeguarding, school improvement, governance, early years, SEND specialist teachers and the EMTAS service. She has been a DSL in a large secondary school, which included the role of Designated teacher for Children in care. The role encompassed the support for children in early help, child in need plans and child protection plans which required multi-agency working to ensure the needs of children and families were met. Karen is a qualified teacher and qualified youth worker and is driven to ensure every child and young person has the opportunity to be the best version of themselves.

The best conference I've attended, empowering as a Designated Safeguarding Lead. Extremely interesting and enjoyed learning new ideas to improve practice and develop mine and the teams skills.

Colfe's School

Outstanding! Plenty of top tips and advice which was deliverable in my setting. Great range of speakers and workshops, I could have gone to all of them! .
