CONFERENCE AIMS

In a world where the safety and well-being of our students are paramount, the importance of effective safeguarding practices cannot be overstated. This brand-new transformative conference is aimed at ensuring the protection of every student, every day. Safeguarding for Success brings together safeguarding professionals to engage in meaningful dialogue, share best practices, and collaborate on strategies to create safer environments for our students to thrive in school.

We will explore critical topics and aim to equip attendees with the knowledge, skills, and resources needed to safeguard students effectively in today's complex and ever-evolving landscape. Safeguarding for Success is not just a conference; it is a call to action, a commitment to safeguarding our most precious resource, our students, today, tomorrow, and beyond for them to reach their true potential.

BENEFITS OF ATTENDING

is Director of Schools Supported, an education consultancy, providing school improvement support for safeguarding, inclusion and SEND. Having held senior and central MAT roles in a range of schools, she calls on her practical experience in school leadership as DSL, SENCo AHT and Director of Inclusion, to help move schools from compliance to creating effective cultures for inclusion and safeguarding. Her work with schools across the country, is centred around contextual needs of children, particularly those affecting marginalised or vulnerable communities. She is a founding member of the Supervision in Schools Network with UCL, was SLE for SEND (South East) holds Level 5 Safeguarding Managers certification, is a qualified SENCo and a Fellow of the Chartered College of Teaching; she is currently reading for a Masters in Social Justice and Education at UCL, is a School Governor and is Specialist Partner for the NPQSENCo at the National Institute of Teaching.

Karen Hackett

is Head of Educational Standards for North Lincolnshire Council, responsible for safeguarding, school improvement, governance, early years, SEND specialist teachers and the EMTAS service. She has been a DSL in a large secondary school, which included the role of Designated teacher for Children in care. The role encompassed the support for children in early help, child in need plans and child protection plans which required multi-agency working to ensure the needs of children and families were met. Karen is a qualified teacher and qualified youth worker and is driven to ensure every child and young person has the opportunity to be the best version of themselves.

Ella Savell-Boss

is a qualified BACP accredited person-centred and gestalt therapist and NSPCC accredited safeguarding trainer. Ella provides safeguarding and child protection training and consultancy to organisations both nationally and internationally. With over 19 years of experience within safeguarding and education, she delivers innovative, engaging, and up-to-date training sessions on a variety of subjects. Her background in counselling aids her ability to effectively support organisations with wellbeing, mental health support, and supervision for staff, children, and families. She has also held various positions within the education sector, including Director of Safeguarding for a large Multi Academy Trust, Children's Services Manager, Extended Schools Manager, and Safeguarding Manager for six academies.

Debbie Innes-Turnill (MSc)

runs her own freelance Safeguarding Consultancy, which complemented by her school experiences, advises schools, organisations, charities & social groups about safeguarding for both adults and children. She has been a Teacher/School Leader for 30 years. She completed her Masters in 'Advanced Child Protection Studies' in 2020 and currently works part time lecturing on the degree which enables her to stay up to date with safeguarding research. She is also studying for a PhD focussing on defining safeguarding culture in education.

Leo Latter

is Head of Safeguarding at Education Child Protection and has over 25 years experience as a teacher and senior leader. He is a specialist in safeguarding, online safety, pastoral support and SEND. He has experience of working in specialist provisions/ services, including a PRU and Education Welfare. He is an accredited coach & supervisor and is passionate about how we develop support structures for education staff. In his role as Head of Safeguarding he provides training, audits, consultancy and supervision to senior leaders and safeguarding staff in schools.

Charlotte Witherspoon is a passionate safeguarding consultant with over two decades of experience in the Police. Her mission is to develop and impart her knowledge and experience to make a positive difference. She strive to create a safer world for all and believes in proactive prevention and early intervention, whether it's safeguarding adults or children at risk, exploitation, domestic abuse recognition, or online safety for all ages. By educating organisations, empowering individuals, supporting survivors and challenging the status quo she hopes to make changes for everyone's future.

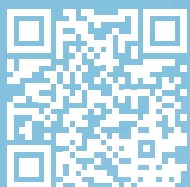

The best conference I've attended, empowering as a Designated Safeguarding Lead. Extremely interesting and enjoyed learning new ideas to improve practice and develop mine and the teams skills.

Colfe's School

Outstanding! Plenty of top tips and advice which was deliverable in my setting. Great range of speakers and workshops, I could have gone to all of them! .
